Payment Details

When you are purchasing tickets through the website we will provide you with the option to store your personal data (including, for the avoidance of doubt, your payment details) against your account for any future payment made by you in relation to tickets and/or goods. Your payment details will be stored by our payment processing provider in the form of an encrypted token and processed by our payment processing provider only where you purchase tickets and/or goods. You can choose to remove any stored payment details from the website, at any time, by selecting the "Remove Card as a Payment Option" option under your account.

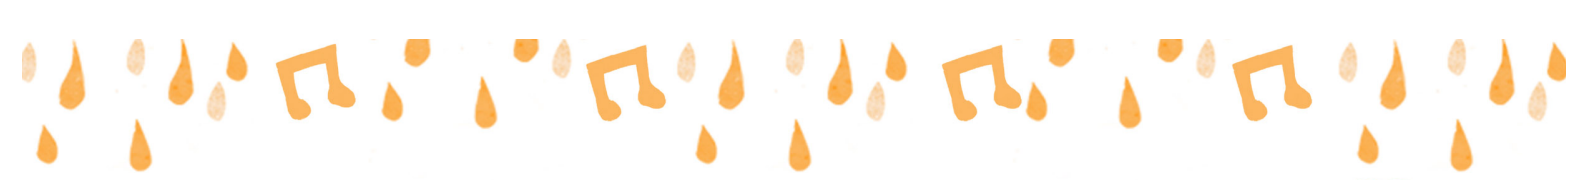

Cookies / collecting information from websites

When you visit the Umbrella Festival website, we may collect personal information from you automatically through cookies including: your IP address and or domain name, your operating system (type of browser and platform), your geographical location (country only), search terms and pages visited, referring domain and link out if applicable, and the date, time and length of your visit to the website. We use these cookies to serve you with advertisements that may be relevant to you and your interests, to ensure we don't display the advertisement to you repeatedly, and to help us regulate the advertisements you receive and measure their effectiveness.

Umbrella Festival may also collect information about how you use its websites to help us personalise our products and services to you. We use Google Analytics to inform us of how visitors use our site based on your browsing habits, so that we can improve our site to make it easier for you to find the information you are seeking. These features use first-party and third-party cookies to inform and optimise content based on your past visits to our site.

Google Analytics does not identify individual users.

The Umbrella Festival website may contain links to other external websites. Umbrella Festival is not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of websites that it may link to and, cookies or other tracking devices that are used on linked websites.

How to manage your cookies

Cookies are sent to your browser (whether you use Internet Explorer, Google Chrome, Safari or any other browser) by a website and then stored in the cookies directory of your device.

To find out how to allow, block, delete and manage the cookies on all standard web browsers, go to www.aboutcookies.org and select the browser and version you are using. You'll also find information about how to delete cookies from your computer. For the majority of browsers this can be done through your preferences control panel.

If you use a mobile phone or handheld device to browse the Website or other sites that use cookies, please refer to your phone or device settings for guidance.

If you disable or refuse cookies, please note that some parts of this website may become inaccessible or not function properly.

Online Advertising

Umbrella Festival may also engage in online advertising to keep you aware of what we're up to and to help you see and find our products.

Like many companies, we target ads to you when you are on other websites and apps. We do this using a variety of digital marketing networks and ad exchanges, and we use a range of advertising technologies like web beacons, pixels, ad tags, cookies, and mobile identifiers, as well as specific services offered by some sites and social networks, such as Facebook's Custom Audience service.

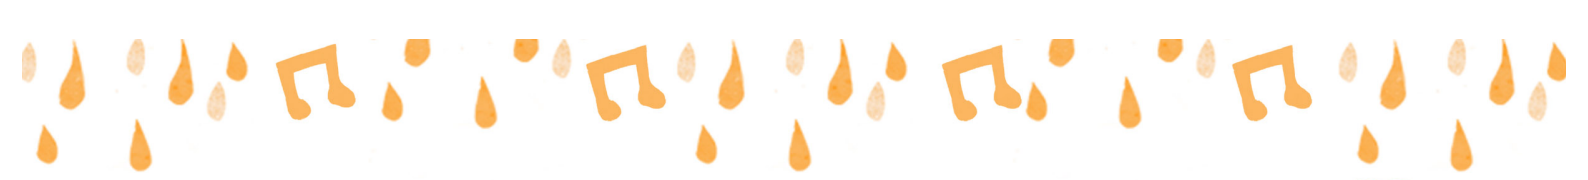

The banners and ads you see will be based on information we hold about you, your previous transactions or interactions with Umbrella Festival, or on Umbrella Festival banners or ads you have previously clicked on. We do not otherwise track any information about your use of other websites.

Facebook

We use the "visitor action pixels" from Facebook Inc on the Umbrella Festival website.

This allows user behaviour to be tracked after they have been redirected to the provider's website by clicking on a Facebook ad. This enables us to measure the effectiveness of Facebook ads for statistical and market research purposes. The data collected in this way is anonymous to us, i.e. we do not see the personal data of individual users. However, this data is stored and processed by Facebook, and Facebook may link this information to your Facebook account and use it for its own promotional purposes, in accordance with Facebook's Data Usage Policy <https://www.facebook.com/about/privacy/>. A cookie may also be stored on your computer for these purposes. You can opt-out of Facebook's use of cookies and Facebook Pixel Re-Marketing through settings on your Facebook Account. <https://www.facebook.com/settings?tab=ads>.

Umbrella Festival may use Facebook Custom Audiences to deliver advertisements to Website Visitors on Facebook based on email addresses that we have collected, including, but not limited to your accounts and e-newsletters. We may also use information associated with visitor social media accounts, such as demographic and other information to improve our marketing efforts and deliver custom advertising.

Social media sites

Umbrella Festival takes no responsibility for any personal information you may post on any of Umbrella Festival's social media sites including, but not limited to, Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, Flickr, YouTube, Pinterest, Yelp, Foursquare, LinkedIn, Snapchat. Any information or content created by you that is in the public domain may be shared by Umbrella Festival. This may include, but is not limited to, publicly accessible information on social media sites, blogs, forums, and websites. Umbrella Festival will endeavour to credit content creators wherever possible.

Transfer of Personal information out of the UK or EEA

Umbrella Festival are an Australian company and as such, your personal information will be transferred outside of the European Economic Area. When doing so, we will comply with our legal and regulatory obligations in relation to the personal information including having a lawful basis for transferring personal information and putting appropriate safeguards in place to ensure an adequate level of protection for the personal information.

You can deal with us anonymously in certain circumstances

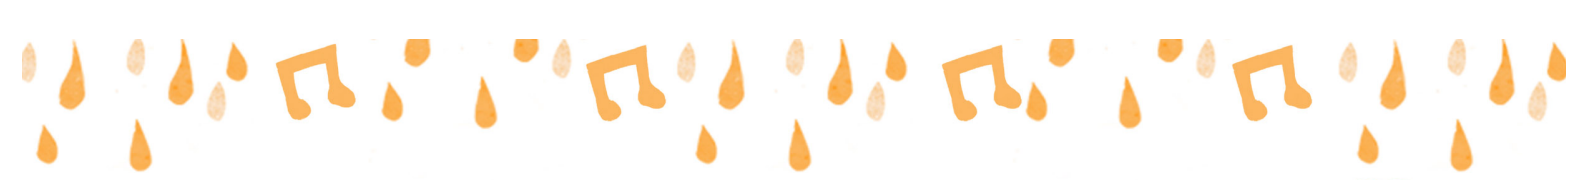

When creating an account on <https://umbrellaadelaide.com.au/>, and when you make a purchase, we ask you to provide your name and a method of contact, which can be an email address or phone number. We require this information from you in order to provide you with the best possible customer service experience so that we can notify you of any event or venue changes relating to your transaction. We also need valid credit or debit card details if you want to buy tickets. This is so that we can process your transaction.

Should you not wish to provide Umbrella Festival with any contact details when purchasing tickets, you may have the option of making an anonymous cash payment at the venue Box Office within 30 minutes of the event commencing, depending on the venue. If you choose to make an anonymous cash payment, you will be doing so with the knowledge that Umbrella Festival will not be able to make contact with you to notify you of any event or venue changes or cancellations and will not take any responsibility for failure to contact you.

Where will we store your information?

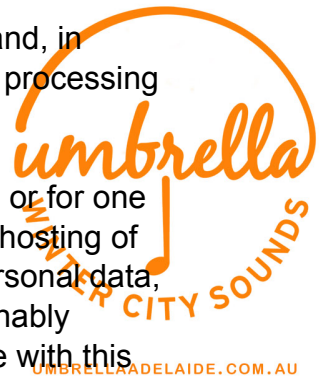

ST PAULS CREATIVE CENTRE: 200 PULTENEY ST, ADELAIDE SA 5000

The data that we collect from you may be stored on our secure servers and, in respect of payment data, on those of our third-party provider of payment processing services purely for the purposes of processing payment.

The data we collect from you may be processed by staff who work for us or for one of our suppliers. Such staff may be engaged in, among other things, the hosting of the Website and/ or provision of support services. By submitting your personal data, you agree to this storing and/ or processing. We will take all steps reasonably necessary to ensure that your data is treated securely and in accordance with this privacy policy.

Umbrella Festival does not store your credit card information for future transactions. Instead, a token containing your payment details remains (in an encrypted format) within our payment processing provider's secure network, in compliance with data protection legislation and any other applicable laws, regulations or standards, until it expires (cancellation or expiration of card) as dictated by the payment processing provider.

Mandatory Data Breach

Umbrella Festival is aware of and shall comply with the Mandatory Data Breach reporting obligations under the Privacy Act.

General Data Protection Regulations

Umbrella Festival is aware of and shall comply with the EU's General Data Protection Regulations where relevant to its operations.

You can access your personal information and make changes

You have a right to access your personal information as collected by Umbrella Festival. You can also lodge a complaint or contact our staff.

Amendment of Privacy Policy

Umbrella Festival reserves the right to amend its privacy policy from time to time and will notify its stakeholders by posting updated versions on its website. It is your right to check your details and advise Umbrella Festival of any changes necessary if your personal information is incorrect.
